The preset templates should be available on all posts and pages - this will replace the standard WP editor that is there at the moment:

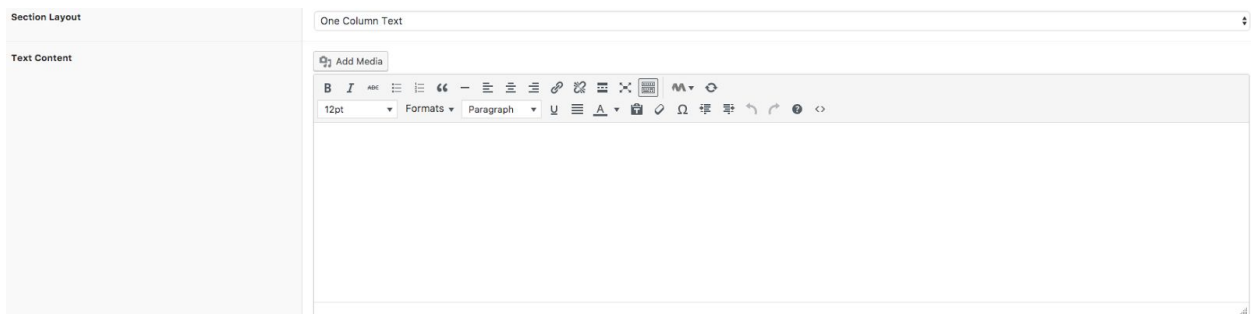

The user should have the following preset template layout options in a dropdown:

- One column text
- Two columns text
- Text and side image
- Full width image or slider
- Three images

If they choose one column text a text content field will appear:

There will be an option to add a new section:

It is powerful and liberating to find something that can enhance and change your lifestyle, and on another unexpected level, make you re-evaluate your entire career. Yoga wasn't something I was initially drawn to, for reasons such as assuming I was not flexible or spiritual enough to fully commit. Before practicing yoga I would use the gym to de-stress and my days would be planned around how to fit in a gym workout or sessions with my personal trainer. It wasn't until I was given some very good advice that I transferred my efforts into my daily yoga practice.

If they choose two column text the following fields will appear:
